

A Whiskey Jack in a Murder of Crows

Rainbow County California Unrivaled sunsets, placid lakeside orchards, pleasant mountain vineyards, and a rural lifestyle. The only thing stopping this place from being idyllic is the noise from the cars on the highway. And murder. Left for dead, helpless as he watched the murder of his family, Jack is a broken man. Six months later, Jack is attempting to recover, both in body and in soul, at a vineyard he inherited from his uncle. California Wine Country seems like a good place to start over and escape the nightmares of his daughters dying cries. Until the local barkeep confides Jack's uncle was murdered.
