He needs funding and he needs funding fast if he wants his startup to survive the following week. Coupled with the fact that his parents are getting divorced and that he just got bitten by the strangest dog hed ever seen, it was shaping up to be a pretty horrible week. Aidan is one of the partners of the venture capital company, SilverScreen ventures. When Jaron steps into the room to present his pitch in front of all the partners for the very first time, Aidan recognises what nobody else in the room does at first - that Jaron is the one the Scriptures foretold of, the one shifter who would unite the two opposing tribes and lead the werewolves back to their former glory. He also recognises that Jaron wishes to claim him as his mate, even if he doesnt quite realise it yet. However, there is a wolf that does not believe in the prophecy and he will do all that he can to stop Jaron from assuming his mantle. Can Jaron come to terms with his destiny? And will he finally claim the mate who believed in him from the very start?
