

The Poetical Works of Robert Browning: Volume VIII: The Ring and the Book, Books V-VIII (Oxford English Texts: Browning)

Volume VIII of the Poetical Works of Browning is the second of three volumes of Brownings masterpiece, The Ring and the Book. The commentary, at the bottom of each page, elucidates Brownings creative and sometimes challenging use of language with reference to his correspondence, his historical sources, and his own rich experience of Italy. Previously unidentified allusions are fully explained, and a newly discovered source from a seventeenth-century Italian chronicle is presented for the first time, allowing further insight into Brownings engagement with history.
