This pocket-sized book should enable the reader to identify quickly and easily 240 species found in Britain and northern Europe. For each species there is a full-colour photograph that is selected specifically to show the identification features. The text includes an introductory section which gives details such as habitat, behaviour, breeding habits and other characteristic traits, and there is an ID Fact File which gives at-a-glance identification information on signs, sounds, size, field characters, and similar species or lookalikes.
