

Forward in Time

What would you do if you found yourself face to face with: A computer that you fear may drive you insane? A mathematical equation that proves you are about to die? A seductive siren who promises you sex and death in outer space? A brainwashing technique that will turn you either into a superman or a monster? A machine that lets you fight imaginary duels-until someone programs it for real-life murder? These are just some of the future shocks in FORWARD IN TIME ABOUT THE AUTHOR Dr. Ben Bova is a six-time Hugo Award winner, and author of over 125 futuristic novels and nonfiction books about science and technology.
