

Master Walk (Tales of the Advocacy Book 1)

pirates, politics, police, and plots! Meet William Drew Faro the 4th -- a human from Kharetons TriGrace Academy -- and Trikura Dai -- a rock-chewing, space-faring Chenri who is definitely not of this world! Now imagine a star-spanning civilization where information is bought, sold, and bartered, where scary dimensional folds allow hyperflight between stars, and where a young Terran student information broker has been given the OK to go farshloggin -- to take up the path that will permit him to walk Osara with the Chenri, the canniest info-brokers of all. Hes willing. He faces pirates, politics, police, and plots. All he has to do is survive. . . In Master Walk, award-winning science fiction authors Sharon Lee and Steve Miller bring a new YA universe to life. Introducing The Advocacy, a rough-and-tumble civilization that has a mix of sentient races and a lot to learn. Sharon Lee and Steve Miller are so good, its scary. -- S. L. Viehl, author of the StarDoc series Nobody else in the field combines space opera and comedy of manners with the same deftness and brio as these two. -- Debra Doyle, co-author of the Mageworlds novels. . . classic space adventure. . . is full of action. . . The world building is outstanding. . . -- Booklist
