

Starting Again

Monica stood and watched the moving van back out of the driveway. She was once again reminded that the happy and comfortable life she once had had come to an end overnight. Everything she loved and lived for had vanished in a blink of an eye. It was hard enough dealing with her daughters tragic accident, but how was she supposed to cope with the loss of her husband. Now two years later, Monica decides to take her daughter overseas, hoping against all odds the trip will heal some of the wounds of the past and give them both a second chance at life. When Monica meets Dr. Vanderhofs its obvious there is an instant attraction between them. Yet, she has to remind herself she isnt there to find love, let alone in a strange country. Follow Monica on her exciting journey and find out what happens.
